Learning Starter Bundle

Choose one small next step

For adults supporting children roughly ages 3-7. Each pack has its own readiness range; the collection is not a single course to complete in order.

1 Choose a response, not a target age

Point or speak when writing is not comfortable. Let the child choose between two short tasks. Read every pack's adult guidance before using its activity pages.

2 Try a short, calm session

Start with one example together, invite one independent attempt, then ask what the child noticed. Five to ten minutes is an optional starting point, not a requirement. Stop sooner when tired or frustrated.

3 Change one thing next time

If a page is hard, reduce the number of items or answer aloud. If it is comfortable, use the page's extension. Do not increase difficulty and writing demands at the same time.

Already own the standalone packs? All eight packs from series Days 2-9 repeat their completed standalone files unchanged. The new material is this seven-page parent guide, including the Shelf Shapes activity and its answer/reflection page. Do not buy expecting eight new packs.

A4 and US Letter contain the same content, not extra activities. Black-and-white interiors. No physical item, editable template, classroom licence or independent learning assessment is included.

Shelf Shapes | an original mixed-skill activity

Adult: read each instruction. Child: point, speak, circle or draw. The shelf has two rows. Count the objects, not the shelf lines. You do not need to write words.

1. On the top row, circle the shape BETWEEN the two squares.

2. How many circles are on the whole shelf? Say the number.

3. Are there more squares or more circles? Tell how you know.

Optional harder challenge: Draw extra circles in the space below so the number of circles, including your drawings, equals the number of squares on the shelf. How many shapes are there altogether now?

Draw the extra circles here.

Shelf Shapes answers & next-step notes

Use after trying. Invite an explanation; do not turn the page into a speed test. Spoken, pointed or drawn responses are valid.

Worked answers

1. The triangle is between the two top-row squares.
2. There are 2 circles, both on the lower row.
3. Squares: 2 on the top + 2 on the bottom = 4. Circles: 2. There are more squares; 4 is 2 more than 2.

Harder: draw 2 extra circles. Then 2 + 2 = 4 circles, matching 4 squares. Total: 4 squares + 4 circles + 1 triangle = 9 shapes.

What if it was tricky? Cover the lower row for the between question. For counting, touch each shape once. For comparing, pair each circle with a square. If handwriting is the barrier, use pointing. The harder challenge can wait.
